A note to the viewer

- The next group of slides will take you through the scoring of a beach volleyball match.
- To make it easier for your to track what is happening on the score sheet, NEW text will appear in RED.
- As the presentation continues, that text will appear in BLUE on the remaining slides.

How do I host a formal captain's meeting?

In the most formal tournament settings (FIVB) the captain's meeting follows a very specific protocol:

1. Introduce yourself and your partner both captains
2. Request / Confirm player uniform numbers and service order
3. Show coin to both teams, indicating which side of the coin represents each team
4. Toss the coin
5. Request choice from winning team:
serve OR receive OR side of court
6. Request choice from other team: from remaining option
7. Record choices on score sheet
8. Obtain signatures (on score sheet) from each captain

After the captain's meeting, complete the TEAMS section on the back of the score sheet

How do I keep score during the match?

Beach officials are often asked to multi-task

R1 Scenario:

“I’m the only official assigned to a beach volleyball match. How can I be both the R1 and the scorer at the same time?”

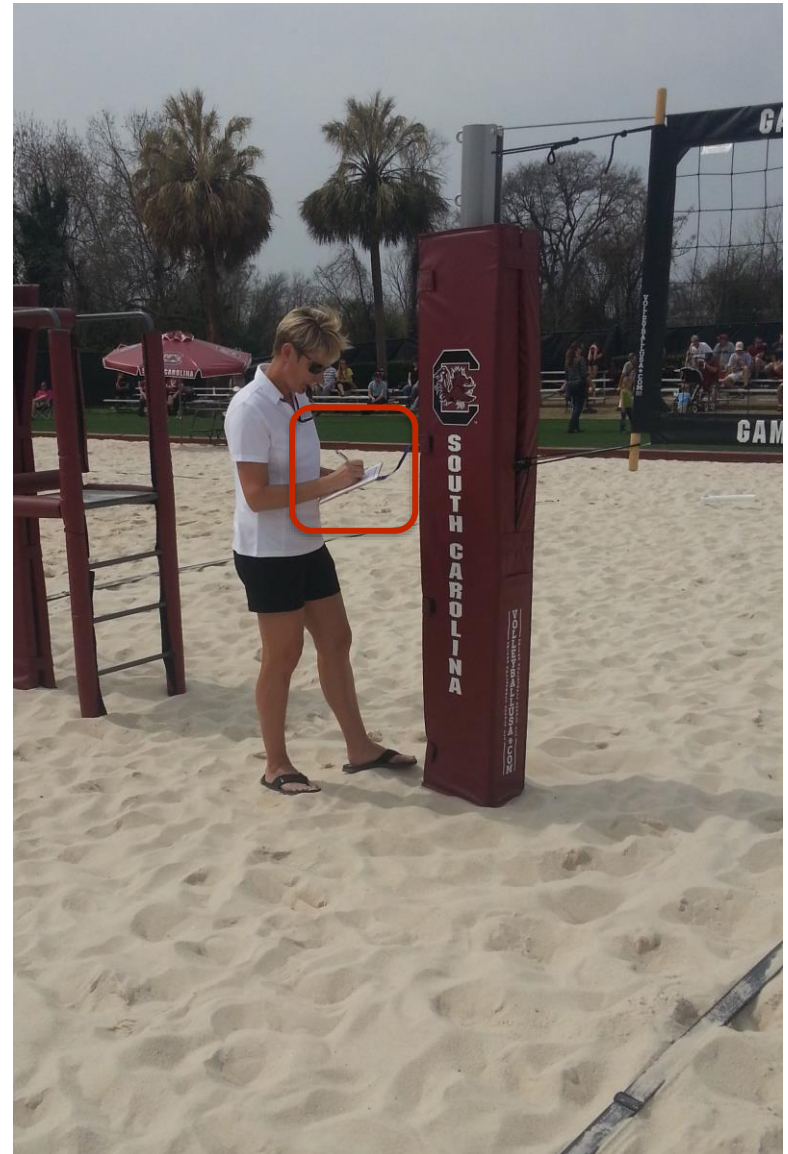

Let's watch an R1 in action using the clipboard on the stand

R2 Scenario:

“I have been assigned as R2 on a beach volleyball match, but I don’t have a scorer. How can I be both the R2 and scorer at the same time?”

How do I record a Medical Time-Out?

Medical Time Out (MTO)

Since there are no substitutions in beach volleyball, the Rules include a formal protocol to allow players an opportunity to recover from injury.

An injured player may take ONE Medical Time Out per match

- The MTO is a tool that is provided so that players may recover from injury
- The MTO should not be used as a strategic or match-delaying tactic

A Medical Time Out lasts a maximum of 5 minutes

- The injured player may return to play early or may use the entire 5 minutes
- But is only allowed one MTO per match

If the injured player cannot return to play

- The team forfeits the remainder of their match
- They retain any sets and points scored during the match
- Opponents are granted enough points to “win” the match

If a Medical Time Out (MTO) is taken during a match, very specific details must be recorded on the score sheet.
